NOTE. Although the tracts upon which the taxes and damages due at the time of forfeiture, if less than $20, are exonerated by law, yet as the exoneration does not in every case operate to the benefit of the original owner, it has been deemed expedient to retain all such tracts in the printed lists.

I do hereby certify, that the foregoing is a list of lands offered for sale in the county of Cabell, in the year 1815, and which not being sold, became vested in the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, pursuant to the act concerning delinquent lands, which passed the 9th of February, 1814, as appears by the sheriff's report of his proceedings, returned to this office. I further certify, that the foregoing lands are redeemable on or before the 1st day of April, 1834, upon the terms, and under the restrictions prescribed in the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

Given under my hand, at the Auditor's Office of Virginia, this 18th day of June, 1832.

JAMES E. HEATH, Auditor of Public Accounts.

T. W. White, Printer.

A LIST OF LANDS

IN GRAYSON COUNTY, Va.

VESTED IN THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTORS OF

THE LITERARY FUND.

Auditor's Office of Virginia, March 27, 1832.

The General Assembly, at its late session, having made some material changes in the laws which relate to lands returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, the following abstract is published for the benefit of all persons concerned.

In the counties East of the Alleghany mountains, (see note 1,) all arrearages whatsoever, prior to 1831, inclusive, whether due on lands heretofore forfeited to the Literary Fund; on lands sold in 1816 and redeemed by the state; or on lands annually returned as delinquent since that time, are forever relinquished. The taxes in arrear on town lots are in like manner released.

In respect to the counties West of the Alleghany, (see note 2,) the regulations and enactments are materially different.

1. The lands and lots which were heretofore forfeited to the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, are exonerated from all arrears in cases where the taxes and damages together due at the time of forfeiture, (1815 and 1816,) do not exceed twenty dollars. If the taxes and damages exceed that sum, the lands so vested in the Literary Fund may be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834, by paying the sum due at the period of forfeiture, with six per centum per annum thereon, up to the time of redemption. But these provisions of the law, have this important qualification, to wit: that neither the relinquishment of taxes and damages, when less than twenty dollars, nor the right of redemption, where that sum is exceeded, can operate to deprive any actual, bona fide occupant, claiming under the Commonwealth's grant, and having paid his taxes, of any of the rights and privileges secured to him by the act of 1st April, 1831, and the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

These several acts do in fact transfer to the actual occupant all the claim of the Commonwealth or Literary Fund, previously acquired by forfeiture. It will therefore be expedient for all persons whose lands have been vested in the Literary Fund, to make strict inquiry into all interfering claims, before they exercise the right of redemption.

2. The lands and lots which were sold in 1816, and afterwards redeemed by the state, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes and damages for which they were sold do not together exceed twenty dollars on each tract or lot; and where they exceed that sum, the proprietor may nevertheless redeem at any time before the 1st April, 1834.

3. The lands and lots not embraced in either of the two preceding classes, but which have been annually returned as delinquent, up to the year 1831, inclusive, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes, exclusive of damages, shall not exceed ten dollars on each tract or lot. If the taxes exceed that sum, they may in like manner be paid, and the lands and lots so returned as delinquent, be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834. So, likewise, may the lands and lots lying west of the Alleghany, which may be returned as delinquent for the years 1832 and 1833, be redeemed by payment at the treasury at any time before the said 1st April, 1834.

Besides the relinquishment of all taxes and damages, when amounting to less than the sums above stated, and besides also the privilege of redemption which is given until the 1st April, 1834, there are other remedial provisions in force, by which the proprietors may be relieved on application to the courts of the counties where the lands are situated. 1. Upon proof by the applicant that he is a bona fide purchaser by deed of conveyance recorded before the 1st April, 1831, or under a decree in chancery; or that he derives title from such purchaser, the purchase money having all been paid. 2. That in the years of delinquency there was property sufficient on the premises liable to distress; or 3. That the taxes have either been paid to some person authorized to collect them, or that they were erroneously charged. Proof of payment, or of erroneous charge, may be submitted to the Auditor, without the intervention of the court.

The taxes for 1831, and all other arrearages whatsoever, on lands and lots lying East of the Alleghany, having been released by the Legislature, the collectors are required hereafter to make sale of so much of any delinquent tract or lot, as will be sufficient to discharge the tax of the current year. This information is particularly important to non-residents, and persons whose residence is remote from their lands. For their convenience, the Legislature has authorized them to pay their taxes into the treasury in each year, at any time before the 1st of August; of which payment the Auditor will advise the collectors.

The operation of the system of selling lands for taxes, annually accruing, being suspended in the Trans-Alleghany district, until the 1st April, 1834, the delinquent lists for that district will before that period be returned to this office as heretofore, and the lands and lots so returned may be redeemed. In all cases of redemption, the Legislature has reduced the damages from ten to six per centum per annum.

The attention of all persons interested cannot be too earnestly invited to the several important provisions of which the foregoing is designed as a summary. It is believed that the Legislature has indicated the permanent policy of the state upon this difficult subject, and it must be acknowledged that a liberal anxiety has been manifested to secure the rights of non-residents, as far as consistent with the just and paramount claims of actual and bona fide holders, who have settled their lands under grants from the Commonwealth, and have regularly paid their taxes.

P. S. The lists of lands and lots returned delinquent from 1821 to 1831, inclusive, and not exonerated by law, and the lists of lands and lots which have been forfeited to the Literary Fund, but are now redeemable under the restrictions and limitations herein before stated, will be published and circulated as soon as practicable.

Editors of newspapers, especially in the large northern and eastern cities, would probably oblige many of their patrons, by noticing the foregoing abstract.

NOTE. Although the tracts upon which the taxes and damages due at the time of forfeiture, if less than $20, are exonerated by law, yet as the exoneration does not in every case operate to the benefit of the original owner, it has been deemed expedient to retain all such tracts in the printed lists.

I do hereby certify, that the foregoing is a list of lands offered for sale in the county of Grayson, in the year 1816, and which not being sold, became vested in the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, pursuant to the act concerning delinquent lands, which passed the [illegible] of February, 1811, as appears by the sheriff's report of his proceedings, returned to this office. I further certify, that the foregoing lands are redeemable on or before the 1st day of April, 1834, upon the terms, and under the restrictions prescribed in the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

Given under my hand, at the Auditor's Office of Virginia, this 25th day of June, 1832.

JAMES E. HEATH, Auditor of Public Accounts.

T. W. White, Printer.

A LIST OF LANDS

IN GREENBRIER COUNTY, Va.

VESTED IN THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTORS OF

THE LITERARY FUND.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE OF VIRGINIA, March 27, 1832.

THE General Assembly, at its late session, having made some material changes in the laws which relate to lands returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, the following abstract is published for the benefit of all persons concerned.

In the counties East of the Alleghany mountains, (see note 1,) all arrearages whatsoever, prior to 1831, inclusive, whether due on lands heretofore forfeited to the Literary Fund; on lands sold in 1816 and redeemed by the state; or on lands annually returned as delinquent since that time, are forever relinquished. The taxes in arrear on town lots are in like manner released.

In respect to the counties West of the Alleghany, (see note 2,) the regulations and enactments are materially different.

1. The lands and lots which were heretofore forfeited to the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, are exonerated from all arrears in cases where the taxes and damages together due at the time of forfeiture, (1815 and 1816,) do not exceed twenty dollars. If the taxes and damages exceed that sum, the lands so vested in the Literary Fund may be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834, by paying the sum due at the period of forfeiture, with six per centum per annum thereon, up to the time of redemption. But these provisions of the law, have this important qualification, to wit: that neither the relinquishment of taxes and damages, when less than twenty dollars, nor the right of redemption, where that sum is exceeded, can operate to deprive any actual, bona fide occupant, claiming under the Commonwealth's grant, and having paid his taxes, of any of the rights and privileges secured to him by the act of 1st April, 1831, and the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

These several acts do in fact transfer to the actual occupant all the claim of the Commonwealth or Literary Fund, previously acquired by forfeiture. It will therefore be expedient for all persons whose lands have been vested in the Literary Fund, to make strict inquiry into all interfering claims, before they exercise the right of redemption.

2. The lands and lots which were sold in 1816, and afterwards redeemed by the state, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes and damages for which they were sold do not together exceed twenty dollars on each tract or lot; and where they exceed that sum, the proprietor may nevertheless redeem at any time before the 1st April, 1834.

3. The lands and lots not embraced in either of the two preceding classes, but which have been annually returned as delinquent, up to the year 1831, inclusive, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes, exclusive of damages, shall not exceed ten dollars on each tract or lot. If the taxes exceed that sum, they may in like manner be paid, and the lands and lots so returned as delinquent, be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834. So, likewise, may the lands and lots lying west of the Alleghany, which may be returned as delinquent for the years 1832 and 1833, be redeemed by payment at the treasury at any time before the said 1st April, 1834.

Besides the relinquishment of all taxes and damages, when amounting to less than the sums above stated, and besides also the privilege of redemption which is given until the 1st April, 1834, there are other remedial provisions in force, by which the proprietors may be relieved on application to the courts of the counties where the lands are situated. 1. Upon proof by the applicant that he is a bona fide purchaser by deed of conveyance recorded before the 1st April, 1831, or under a decree in chancery; or that he derives title from such purchaser, the purchase money having all been paid. 2. That in the years of delinquency there was property sufficient on the premises liable to distress; or 3. That the taxes have either been paid to some person authorized to collect them, or that they were erroneously charged. Proof of payment, or of erroneous charge, may be submitted to the Auditor, without the intervention of the court.

The taxes for 1831, and all other arrearages whatsoever, on lands and lots lying East of the Alleghany, having been released by the Legislature, the collectors are required hereafter to make sale of so much of any delinquent tract or lot, as will be sufficient to discharge the tax of the current year. This information is particularly important to non-residents, and persons whose residence is remote from their lands. For their convenience, the Legislature has authorized them to pay their taxes into the treasury in each year, at any time before the 1st of August; of which payment the Auditor will advise the collectors.

The operation of the system of selling lands for taxes, annually accruing, being suspended in the Trans-Alleghany district, until the 1st April, 1834, the delinquent lists for that district will before that period be returned to this office as heretofore, and the lands and lots so returned may be redeemed. In all cases of redemption, the Legislature has reduced the damages from ten to six per centum per annum.

The attention of all persons interested cannot be too earnestly invited to the several important provisions of which the foregoing is designed as a summary. It is believed that the Legislature has indicated the permanent policy of the state upon this difficult subject, and it must be acknowledged that a liberal anxiety has been manifested to secure the rights of non-residents, as far as consistent with the just and paramount claims of actual and bona fide holders, who have settled their lands under grants from the Commonwealth, and have regularly paid their taxes.

P. S. The lists of lands and lots returned delinquent from 1821 to 1831, inclusive, and not exonerated by law, and the lists of lands and lots which have been forfeited to the Literary Fund, but are now redeemable under the restrictions and limitations herein before stated, will be published and circulated as soon as practicable.

Editors of newspapers, especially in the large northern and eastern cities, would probably oblige many of their patrons, by noticing the foregoing abstract.

NOTE. Although the tracts upon which the taxes and damages due at the time of forfeiture, if less than $20, are exonerated by law, yet as the exoneration does not in every case operate to the benefit of the original owner, it has been deemed expedient to retain all such tracts in the printed lists.

I do hereby certify, that the foregoing is a list of lands offered for sale in the county of Greenbrier, in the year 1815, and which not being sold, became vested in the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, pursuant to the act concerning delinquent lands, which passed the 9th of February, 1814, as appears by the sheriff's report of his proceedings, returned to this office. I further certify, that the foregoing lands are redeemable on or before the 1st day of April, 1834, upon the terms, and under the restrictions prescribed in the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

Given under my hand, at the Auditor's Office of Virginia, this 23d day of June, 1832.

JAMES E. HEATH, Auditor of Public Accounts.

T. W. White, Printer.

A LIST OF LANDS

IN LEE COUNTY, Va.

VESTED IN THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTORS OF

THE LITERARY FUND.

Auditor's Office of Virginia, March 27, 1832.

The General Assembly, at its late session, having made some material changes in the laws which relate to lands returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, the following abstract is published for the benefit of all persons concerned.

In the counties East of the Alleghany mountains, (see note 1,) all arrearages whatsoever, prior to 1831, inclusive, whether due on lands heretofore forfeited to the Literary Fund; on lands sold in 1816 and redeemed by the state; or on lands annually returned as delinquent since that time, are forever relinquished. The taxes in arrear on town lots are in like manner released.

In respect to the counties West of the Alleghany, (see note 2,) the regulations and enactments are materially different.

1. The lands and lots which were heretofore forfeited to the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, are exonerated from all arrears in cases where the taxes and damages together due at the time of forfeiture, (1815 and 1816,) do not exceed twenty dollars. If the taxes and damages exceed that sum, the lands so vested in the Literary Fund may be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834, by paying the sum due at the period of forfeiture, with six per centum per annum thereon, up to the time of redemption. But these provisions of the law, have this important qualification, to wit: that neither the relinquishment of taxes and damages, when less than twenty dollars, nor the right of redemption, where that sum is exceeded, can operate to deprive any actual, bona fide occupant, claiming under the Commonwealth's grant, and having paid his taxes, of any of the rights and privileges secured to him by the act of 1st April, 1831, and the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

These several acts do in fact transfer to the actual occupant all the claim of the Commonwealth or Literary Fund, previously acquired by forfeiture. It will therefore be expedient for all persons whose lands have been vested in the Literary Fund, to make strict inquiry into all interfering claims, before they exercise the right of redemption.

2. The lands and lots which were sold in 1816, and afterwards redeemed by the state, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes and damages for which they were sold do not together exceed twenty dollars on each tract or lot; and where they exceed that sum, the proprietor may nevertheless redeem at any time before the 1st April, 1834.

3. The lands and lots not embraced in either of the two preceding classes, but which have been annually returned as delinquent, up to the year 1831, inclusive, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes, exclusive of damages, shall not exceed ten dollars on each tract or lot. If the taxes exceed that sum, they may in like manner be paid, and the lands and lots so returned as delinquent, be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834. So, likewise, may the lands and lots lying west of the Alleghany, which may be returned as delinquent for the years 1832 and 1833, be redeemed by payment at the treasury at any time before the said 1st April, 1834.

Besides the relinquishment of all taxes and damages, when amounting to less than the sums above stated, and besides also the privilege of redemption which is given until the 1st April, 1834, there are other remedial provisions in force, by which the proprietors may be relieved on application to the courts of the counties where the lands are situated. 1. Upon proof by the applicant that he is a bona fide purchaser by deed of conveyance recorded before the 1st April, 1831, or under a decree in chancery; or that he derives title from such purchaser, the purchase money having all been paid. 2. That in the years of delinquency there was property sufficient on the premises liable to distress; or 3. That the taxes have either been paid to some person authorized to collect them, or that they were erroneously charged. Proof of payment, or of erroneous charge, may be submitted to the Auditor, without the intervention of the court.

The taxes for 1831, and all other arrearages whatsoever, on lands and lots lying East of the Alleghany, having been released by the Legislature, the collectors are required hereafter to make sale of so much of any delinquent tract or lot, as will be sufficient to discharge the tax of the current year. This information is particularly important to non-residents, and persons whose residence is remote from their lands. For their convenience, the Legislature has authorized them to pay their taxes into the treasury in each year, at any time before the 1st of August; of which payment the Auditor will advise the collectors.

The operation of the system of selling lands for taxes, annually accruing, being suspended in the Trans-Alleghany district, until the 1st April, 1834, the delinquent lists for that district will before that period be returned to this office as heretofore, and the lands and lots so returned may be redeemed. In all cases of redemption, the Legislature has reduced the damages from ten to six per centum per annum.

The attention of all persons interested cannot be too earnestly invited to the several important provisions of which the foregoing is designed as a summary. It is believed that the Legislature has indicated the permanent policy of the state upon this difficult subject, and it must be acknowledged that a liberal anxiety has been manifested to secure the rights of non-residents, as far as consistent with the just and paramount claims of actual and bona fide holders, who have settled their lands under grants from the Commonwealth, and have regularly paid their taxes.

P. S. The lists of lands and lots returned delinquent from 1821 to 1831, inclusive, and not exonerated by law, and the lists of lands and lots which have been forfeited to the Literary Fund, but are now redeemable under the restrictions and limitations herein before stated, will be published and circulated as soon as practicable.

Editors of newspapers, especially in the large northern and eastern cities, would probably oblige many of their patrons, by noticing the foregoing abstract.

NOTE. The sheriff of Lee neglected, in his return of forfeitures in 1816, to state either the years of delinquency, or the amount of taxes and damages. That omission has been supplied from the annual returns of the sheriffs. It will be observed that sundry names appear on the list, with quantities of land attached to each, these names and lands do not appear on the sheriff's yearly returns.

NOTE. Although the tracts upon which the taxes and damages due at the time of forfeiture, if less than $20, are exonerated by law, yet as the exoneration does not in every case operate to the benefit of the original owner, it has been deemed expedient to retain all such tracts in the printed lists.

I do hereby certify, that the foregoing is a list of lands offered for sale in the county of Lee, in the year 1816, and which not being sold, became vested in the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, pursuant to the act concerning delinquent lands, which passed the 9th of February, 1814, as appears by the sheriff's report of his proceedings, returned to this office. I further certify, that the foregoing lands are redeemable on or before the 1st day of April, 1834, upon the terms, and under the restrictions prescribed in the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

Given under my hand, at the Auditor's Office of Virginia, this 25th day of June, 1832.

NOTE. Although the tracts upon which the taxes and damages due at the time of forfeiture, if less than $20, are exonerated by law, yet as the exoneration does not in every case operate to the benefit of the original owner, it has been deemed expedient to retain all such tracts in the printed lists.

I do hereby certify, that the foregoing is a list of lands offered for sale in the county of Monroe, in the year 1815, and which not being sold, became vested in the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, pursuant to the act concerning delinquent lands, which passed the 9th of February, 1814, as appears by the sheriff's report of his proceedings, returned to this office. I further certify, that the foregoing lands are redeemable on or before the 1st day of April, 1834, upon the terms, and under the restrictions prescribed in the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

Given under my hand, at the Auditor's Office of Virginia, this 18th June, 1832.

JAMES E. HEATH, Auditor of Public Accounts.

T. W. White, Printer.

A LIST OF LANDS

IN MASON COUNTY, Va.

VESTED IN THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTORS OF

THE LITERARY FUND.

Auditor's Office of Virginia, March 27, 1832.

The General Assembly, at its late session, having made some material changes in the laws which relate to lands returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, the following abstract is published for the benefit of all persons concerned.

In the counties East of the Alleghany mountains, (see note 1,) all arrearages whatsoever, prior to 1831, inclusive, whether due on lands heretofore forfeited to the Literary Fund; on lands sold in 1816 and redeemed by the state; or on lands annually returned as delinquent since that time, are forever relinquished. The taxes in arrear on town lots are in like manner released.

In respect to the counties West of the Alleghany, (see note 2,) the regulations and enactments are materially different.

1. The lands and lots which were heretofore forfeited to the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, are exonerated from all arrears in cases where the taxes and damages together due at the time of forfeiture, (1815 and 1816,) do not exceed twenty dollars. If the taxes and damages exceed that sum, the lands so vested in the Literary Fund may be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834, by paying the sum due at the period of forfeiture, with six per centum per annum thereon, up to the time of redemption. But these provisions of the law, have this important qualification, to wit: that neither the relinquishment of taxes and damages, when less than twenty dollars, nor the right of redemption, where that sum is exceeded, can operate to deprive any actual, bona fide occupant, claiming under the Commonwealth's grant, and having paid his taxes, of any of the rights and privileges secured to him by the act of 1st April, 1831, and the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

These several acts do in fact transfer to the actual occupant all the claim of the Commonwealth or Literary Fund, previously acquired by forfeiture. It will therefore be expedient for all persons whose lands have been vested in the Literary Fund, to make strict inquiry into all interfering claims, before they exercise the right of redemption.

2. The lands and lots which were sold in 1816, and afterwards redeemed by the state, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes and damages for which they were sold do not together exceed twenty dollars on each tract or lot; and where they exceed that sum, the proprietor may nevertheless redeem at any time before the 1st April, 1834.

3. The lands and lots not embraced in either of the two preceding classes, but which have been annually returned as delinquent, up to the year 1831, inclusive, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes, exclusive of damages, shall not exceed ten dollars on each tract or lot. If the taxes exceed that sum, they may in like manner be paid, and the lands and lots so returned as delinquent, be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834. So, likewise, may the lands and lots lying west of the Alleghany, which may be returned as delinquent for the years 1832 and 1833, be redeemed by payment at the treasury at any time before the said 1st April, 1834.

Besides the relinquishment of all taxes and damages, when amounting to less than the sums above stated, and besides also the privilege of redemption which is given until the 1st April, 1834, there are other remedial provisions in force, by which the proprietors may be relieved on application to the courts of the counties where the lands are situated. 1. Upon proof by the applicant that he is a bona fide purchaser by deed of conveyance recorded before the 1st April, 1831, or under a decree in chancery; or that he derives title from such purchaser, the purchase money having all been paid. 2. That in the years of delinquency there was property sufficient on the premises liable to distress; or 3. That the taxes have either been paid to some person authorized to collect them, or that they were erroneously charged. Proof of payment, or of erroneous charge, may be submitted to the Auditor, without the intervention of the court.

The taxes for 1831, and all other arrearages whatsoever, on lands and lots lying East of the Alleghany, having been released by the Legislature, the collectors are required hereafter to make sale of so much of any delinquent tract or lot, as will be sufficient to discharge the tax of the current year. This information is particularly important to non-residents, and persons whose residence is remote from their lands. For their convenience, the Legislature has authorized them to pay their taxes into the treasury in each year, at any time before the 1st of August; of which payment the Auditor will advise the collectors.

The operation of the system of selling lands for taxes, annually accruing, being suspended in the Trans-Alleghany district, until the 1st April, 1834, the delinquent lists for that district will before that period be returned to this office as heretofore, and the lands and lots so returned may be redeemed. In all cases of redemption, the Legislature has reduced the damages from ten to six per centum per annum.

The attention of all persons interested cannot be too earnestly invited to the several important provisions of which the foregoing is designed as a summary. It is believed that the Legislature has indicated the permanent policy of the state upon this difficult subject, and it must be acknowledged that a liberal anxiety has been manifested to secure the rights of non-residents, as far as consistent with the just and paramount claims of actual and bona fide holders, who have settled their lands under grants from the Commonwealth, and have regularly paid their taxes.

P. S. The lists of lands and lots returned delinquent from 1821 to 1831, inclusive, and not exonerated by law, and the lists of lands and lots which have been forfeited to the Literary Fund, but are now redeemable under the restrictions and limitations herein before stated, will be published and circulated as soon as practicable.

Editors of newspapers, especially in the large northern and eastern cities, would probably oblige many of their patrons, by noticing the foregoing abstract.

NOTE. Although the tracts upon which the taxes and damages due at the time of forfeiture, if less than $20, are exonerated by law, yet as the exoneration does not in every case operate to the benefit of the original owner, it has been deemed expedient to retain all such tracts in the printed lists.

I do hereby certify, that the foregoing is a list of lands offered for sale in the county of Mason, in the year 1815, and which not being sold, became vested in the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, pursuant to the act concerning delinquent lands, which passed the 9th of February, 1814, as appears by the sheriff's report of his proceedings, returned to this office. I further certify, that the foregoing lands are redeemable on or before the 1st day of April, 1831, upon the terms, and under the restrictions prescribed in the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

Given under my hand, at the Auditor's Office of Virginia, this 18th day of June, 1832.

JAMES E. HEATH, Auditor of Public Accounts.

A LIST OF LANDS

IN RANDOLPH COUNTY, Va.

VESTED IN THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTORS OF

THE LITERARY FUND.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE OF VIRGINIA, March 27, 1832.

THE General Assembly, at its late session, having made some material changes in the laws which relate to lands returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, the following abstract is published for the benefit of all persons concerned.

In the counties East of the Alleghany mountains, (see note 1,) all arrearages whatsoever, prior to 1831, inclusive, whether due on lands heretofore forfeited to the Literary Fund; on lands sold in 1816 and redeemed by the state; or on lands annually returned as delinquent since that time, are forever relinquished. The taxes in arrear on town lots are in like manner released.

In respect to the counties West of the Alleghany, (see note 2,) the regulations and enactments are materially different.

1. The lands and lots which were heretofore forfeited to the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, are exonerated from all arrears in cases where the taxes and damages together due at the time of forfeiture, (1815 and 1816,) do not exceed twenty dollars. If the taxes and damages exceed that sum, the lands so vested in the Literary Fund may be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834, by paying the sum due at the period of forfeiture, with six per centum per annum thereon, up to the time of redemption. But these provisions of the law, have this important qualification, to wit: that neither the relinquishment of taxes and damages, when less than twenty dollars, nor the right of redemption, where that sum is exceeded, can operate to deprive any actual, bona fide occupant, claiming under the Commonwealth's grant, and having paid his taxes, of any of the rights and privileges secured to him by the act of 1st April, 1831, and the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

These several acts do in fact transfer to the actual occupant all the claim of the Commonwealth or Literary Fund, previously acquired by forfeiture. It will therefore be expedient for all persons whose lands have been vested in the Literary Fund, to make strict inquiry into all interfering claims, before they exercise the right of redemption.

2. The lands and lots which were sold in 1816, and afterwards redeemed by the state, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes and damages for which they were sold do not together exceed twenty dollars on each tract or lot; and where they exceed that sum, the proprietor may nevertheless redeem at any time before the 1st April, 1834.

3. The lands and lots not embraced in either of the two preceding classes, but which have been annually returned as delinquent, up to the year 1831, inclusive, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes, exclusive of damages, shall not exceed ten dollars on each tract or lot. If the taxes exceed that sum, they may in like manner be paid, and the lands and lots so returned as delinquent, be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834. So, likewise, may the lands and lots lying west of the Alleghany, which may be returned as delinquent for the years 1832 and 1833, be redeemed by payment at the treasury at any time before the said 1st April, 1834.

Besides the relinquishment of all taxes and damages, when amounting to less than the sums above stated, and besides also the privilege of redemption which is given until the 1st April, 1834, there are other remedial provisions in force, by which the proprietors may be relieved on application to the courts of the counties where the lands are situated. 1. Upon proof by the applicant that he is a bona fide purchaser by deed of conveyance recorded before the 1st April, 1831, or under a decree in chancery; or that he derives title from such purchaser, the purchase money having all been paid. 2. That in the years of delinquency there was property sufficient on the premises liable to distress; or 3. That the taxes have either been paid to some person authorized to collect them, or that they were erroneously charged. Proof of payment, or of erroneous charge, may be submitted to the Auditor, without the intervention of the court.

The taxes for 1831, and all other arrearages whatsoever, on lands and lots lying East of the Alleghany, having been released by the Legislature, the collectors are required hereafter to make sale of so much of any delinquent tract or lot, as will be sufficient to discharge the tax of the current year. This information is particularly important to non-residents, and persons whose residence is remote from their lands. For their convenience, the Legislature has authorized them to pay their taxes into the treasury in each year, at any time before the 1st of August; of which payment the Auditor will advise the collectors.

The operation of the system of selling lands for taxes, annually accruing, being suspended in the Trans-Alleghany district, until the 1st April, 1834, the delinquent lists for that district will before that period be returned to this office as heretofore, and the lands and lots so returned may be redeemed. In all cases of redemption, the Legislature has reduced the damages from ten to six per centum per annum.

The attention of all persons interested cannot be too earnestly invited to the several important provisions of which the foregoing is designed as a summary. It is believed that the Legislature has indicated the permanent policy of the state upon this difficult subject, and it must be acknowledged that a liberal anxiety has been manifested to secure the rights of non-residents, as far as consistent with the just and paramount claims of actual and bona fide holders, who have settled their lands under grants from the Commonwealth, and have regularly paid their taxes.

P. S. The lists of lands and lots returned delinquent from 1821 to 1831, inclusive, and not exonerated by law, and the lists of lands and lots which have been forfeited to the Literary Fund, but are now redeemable under the restrictions and limitations herein before stated, will be published and circulated as soon as practicable.

Editors of newspapers, especially in the large northern and eastern cities, would probably oblige many of their patrons, by noticing the foregoing abstract.

In 1806, he states the quantity at 148,128 acres, the tax the same; and so for the years 1807, 1809, and 1810. In 1811, and to 1815, inclusive, he returns 100,000 acres, and the same tax as appears on the commissioner's books and delinquent lists. The true amount of tax, as stated on commissioner's books and sheriff's delinquent returns, are as here stated. It also appears that tax on 30000 acres, has been paid up to 1815.

NOTE. Although the tracts upon which the taxes and damages due at the time of forfeiture, if less than $20, are exonerated by law, yet as the exoneration does not in every case operate to the benefit of the original owner, it has been deemed expedient to retain all such tracts in the printed lists.

I do hereby certify, that the foregoing is a list of lands offered for sale in the county of Randolph, in the year 1815, and which not being sold, became vested in the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, pursuant to the act concerning delinquent lands, which passed the 9th of February, 1814, as appears by the sheriff's report of his proceedings, returned to this office. I further certify, that the foregoing lands are redeemable on or before the 1st day of April, 1834, upon the terms, and under the restrictions prescribed in the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

Given under my hand, at the Auditor's Office of Virginia, this 16th day of July, 1832.

A LIST OF LANDS

IN RUSSELL COUNTY, Va.

VESTED IN THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTORS OF

THE LITERARY FUND.

Auditor's Office of Virginia, March 27, 1832.

The General Assembly, at its late session, having made some material changes in the laws which relate to lands returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, the following abstract is published for the benefit of all persons concerned.

In the counties East of the Alleghany mountains, (see note 1,) all arrearages whatsoever, prior to 1831, inclusive, whether due on lands heretofore forfeited to the Literary Fund; on lands sold in 1816 and redeemed by the state; or on lands annually returned as delinquent since that time, are forever relinquished. The taxes in arrear on town lots are in like manner released.

In respect to the counties West of the Alleghany, (see note 2,) the regulations and enactments are materially different.

1. The lands and lots which were heretofore forfeited to the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, are exonerated from all arrears in cases where the taxes and damages together due at the time of forfeiture, (1815 and 1816,) do not exceed twenty dollars. If the taxes and damages exceed that sum, the lands so vested in the Literary Fund may be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834, by paying the sum due at the period of forfeiture, with six per centum per annum thereon, up to the time of redemption. But these provisions of the law, have this important qualification, to wit: that neither the relinquishment of taxes and damages, when less than twenty dollars, nor the right of redemption, where that sum is exceeded, can operate to deprive any actual, bona fide occupant, claiming under the Commonwealth's grant, and having paid his taxes, of any of the rights and privileges secured to him by the act of 1st April, 1831, and the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

These several acts do in fact transfer to the actual occupant all the claim of the Commonwealth or Literary Fund, previously acquired by forfeiture. It will therefore be expedient for all persons whose lands have been vested in the Literary Fund, to make strict inquiry into all interfering claims, before they exercise the right of redemption.

2. The lands and lots which were sold in 1816, and afterwards redeemed by the state, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes and damages for which they were sold do not together exceed twenty dollars on each tract or lot; and where they exceed that sum, the proprietor may nevertheless redeem at any time before the 1st April, 1834.

3. The lands and lots not embraced in either of the two preceding classes, but which have been annually returned as delinquent, up to the year 1831, inclusive, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes, exclusive of damages, shall not exceed ten dollars on each tract or lot. If the taxes exceed that sum, they may in like manner be paid, and the lands and lots so returned as delinquent, be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834. So, likewise, may the lands and lots lying west of the Alleghany, which may be returned as delinquent for the years 1832 and 1833, be redeemed by payment at the treasury at any time before the said 1st April, 1834.

Besides the relinquishment of all taxes and damages, when amounting to less than the sums above stated, and besides also the privilege of redemption which is given until the 1st April, 1834, there are other remedial provisions in force, by which the proprietors may be relieved on application to the courts of the counties where the lands are situated. 1. Upon proof by the applicant that he is a bona fide purchaser by deed of conveyance recorded before the 1st April, 1831, or under a decree in chancery; or that he derives title from such purchaser, the purchase money having all been paid. 2. That in the years of delinquency there was property sufficient on the premises liable to distress; or 3. That the taxes have either been paid to some person authorized to collect them, or that they were erroneously charged. Proof of payment, or of erroneous charge, may be submitted to the Auditor, without the intervention of the court.

The taxes for 1831, and all other arrearages whatsoever, on lands and lots lying East of the Alleghany, having been released by the Legislature, the collectors are required hereafter to make sale of so much of any delinquent tract or lot, as will be sufficient to discharge the tax of the current year. This information is particularly important to non-residents, and persons whose residence is remote from their lands. For their convenience, the Legislature has authorized them to pay their taxes into the treasury in each year, at any time before the 1st of August; of which payment the Auditor will advise the collectors.

The operation of the system of selling lands for taxes, annually accruing, being suspended in the Trans-Alleghany district, until the 1st April, 1834, the delinquent lists for that district will before that period be returned to this office as heretofore, and the lands and lots so returned may be redeemed. In all cases of redemption, the Legislature has reduced the damages from ten to six per centum per annum.

The attention of all persons interested cannot be too earnestly invited to the several important provisions of which the foregoing is designed as a summary. It is believed that the Legislature has indicated the permanent policy of the state upon this difficult subject, and it must be acknowledged that a liberal anxiety has been manifested to secure the rights of non-residents, as far as consistent with the just and paramount claims of actual and bona fide holders, who have settled their lands under grants from the Commonwealth, and have regularly paid their taxes.

P. S. The lists of lands and lots returned delinquent from 1821 to 1831, inclusive, and not exonerated by law, and the lists of lands and lots which have been forfeited to the Literary Fund, but are now redeemable under the restrictions and limitations herein before stated, will be published and circulated as soon as practicable.

Editors of newspapers, especially in the large northern and eastern cities, would probably oblige many of their patrons, by noticing the foregoing abstract.

NOTE. Although the tracts upon which the taxes and damages due at the time of forfeiture, if less than $20, are exonerated by law, yet as the exoneration does not in every case operate to the benefit of the original owner, it has been deemed expedient to retain all such tracts in the printed lists.

I do hereby certify, that the foregoing is a list of lands offered for sale in the county of Russell, in the year 1816, and which not being sold, became vested in the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, pursuant to the act concerning delinquent lands, which passed the 9th of February, 1814, as appears by the sheriff's report of his proceedings, returned to this office. I further certify, that the foregoing lands are redeemable on or before the 1st day of April, 1834, upon the terms, and under the restrictions prescribed in the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

Given under my hand, at the Auditor's Office of Virginia, this 6th day of July, 1832.

A LIST OF LANDS

IN SCOTT COUNTY, Va.

VESTED IN THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTORS OF

THE LITERARY FUND.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE OF VIRGINIA, March 27, 1832.

THE General Assembly, at its late session, having made some material changes in the laws which relate to lands returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, the following abstract is published for the benefit of all persons concerned.

In the counties East of the Alleghany mountains, (see note 1,) all arrearages whatsoever, prior to 1831, inclusive, whether due on lands heretofore forfeited to the Literary Fund; on lands sold in 1816 and redeemed by the state; or on lands annually returned as delinquent since that time, are forever relinquished. The taxes in arrear on town lots are in like manner released.

In respect to the counties West of the Alleghany, (see note 2,) the regulations and enactments are materially different.

1. The lands and lots which were heretofore forfeited to the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, are exonerated from all arrears in cases where the taxes and damages together due at the time of forfeiture, (1815 and 1816,) do not exceed twenty dollars. If the taxes and damages exceed that sum, the lands so vested in the Literary Fund may be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834, by paying the sum due at the period of forfeiture, with six per centum per annum thereon, up to the time of redemption. But these provisions of the law, have this important qualification, to wit: that neither the relinquishment of taxes and damages, when less than twenty dollars, nor the right of redemption, where that sum is exceeded, can operate to deprive any actual, bona fide occupant, claiming under the Commonwealth's grant, and having paid his taxes, of any of the rights and privileges secured to him by the act of 1st April, 1831, and the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

These several acts do in fact transfer to the actual occupant all the claim of the Commonwealth or Literary Fund, previously acquired by forfeiture. It will therefore be expedient for all persons whose lands have been vested in the Literary Fund, to make strict inquiry into all interfering claims, before they exercise the right of redemption.

2. The lands and lots which were sold in 1816, and afterwards redeemed by the state, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes and damages for which they were sold do not together exceed twenty dollars on each tract or lot; and where they exceed that sum, the proprietor may nevertheless redeem at any time before the 1st April, 1834.

3. The lands and lots not embraced in either of the two preceding classes, but which have been annually returned as delinquent, up to the year 1831, inclusive, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes, exclusive of damages, shall not exceed ten dollars on each tract or lot. If the taxes exceed that sum, they may in like manner be paid, and the lands and lots so returned as delinquent, be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834. So, likewise, may the lands and lots lying west of the Alleghany, which may be returned as delinquent for the years 1832 and 1833, be redeemed by payment at the treasury at any time before the said 1st April, 1834.

Besides the relinquishment of all taxes and damages, when amounting to less than the sums above stated, and besides also the privilege of redemption which is given until the 1st April, 1834, there are other remedial provisions in force, by which the proprietors may be relieved on application to the courts of the counties where the lands are situated. 1. Upon proof by the applicant that he is a bona fide purchaser by deed of conveyance recorded before the 1st April, 1831, or under a decree in chancery; or that he derives title from such purchaser, the purchase money having all been paid. 2. That in the years of delinquency there was property sufficient on the premises liable to distress; or 3. That the taxes have either been paid to some person authorized to collect them, or that they were erroneously charged. Proof of payment, or of erroneous charge, may be submitted to the Auditor, without the intervention of the court.

The taxes for 1831, and all other arrearages whatsoever, on lands and lots lying East of the Alleghany, having been released by the Legislature, the collectors are required hereafter to make sale of so much of any delinquent tract or lot, as will be sufficient to discharge the tax of the current year. This information is particularly important to non-residents, and persons whose residence is remote from their lands. For their convenience, the Legislature has authorized them to pay their taxes into the treasury in each year, at any time before the 1st of August; of which payment the Auditor will advise the collectors.

The operation of the system of selling lands for taxes, annually accruing, being suspended in the Trans-Alleghany district, until the 1st April, 1834, the delinquent lists for that district will before that period be returned to this office as heretofore, and the lands and lots so returned may be redeemed. In all cases of redemption, the Legislature has reduced the damages from ten to six per centum per annum.

The attention of all persons interested cannot be too earnestly invited to the several important provisions of which the foregoing is designed as a summary. It is believed that the Legislature has indicated the permanent policy of the state upon this difficult subject, and it must be acknowledged that a liberal anxiety has been manifested to secure the rights of non-residents, as far as consistent with the just and paramount claims of actual and bona fide holders, who have settled their lands under grants from the Commonwealth, and have regularly paid their taxes.

P. S. The lists of lands and lots returned delinquent from 1821 to 1831, inclusive, and not exonerated by law, and the lists of lands and lots which have been forfeited to the Literary Fund, but are now redeemable under the restrictions and limitations herein before stated, will be published and circulated as soon as practicable.

Editors of newspapers, especially in the large northern and eastern cities, would probably oblige many of their patrons, by noticing the foregoing abstract.

Note 1. The following counties and towns are situated East of the Alleghany mountains, viz: Accomack, Albemarle, Alleghany, Amelia, Amherst, Augusta, Bath, Bedford, Berkeley, Botetourt, Brunswick, Buckingham, Campbell, Caroline, Charles City, Charlotte, Chesterfield, Culpeper, Cumberland, Dinwiddie, Elizabeth City, Essex, Fairfax, Fauquier, Fluvanna, Franklin, Frederick, Gloucester, Goochland, Greensville, Halifax, Hampshire, Hanover, Hardy, Henrico, Henry, Isle of Wight, James City, Jefferson, King George, King and Queen, King William, Lancaster, Loudoun, Louisa, Lunenburg, Madison, Matthews, Mecklenburg, Middlesex, Morgan, Nansemond, Nelson, New Kent, Norfolk county, Norfolk borough, Northampton, Northumberland, Nottoway, Orange, Page, Patrick, Pendleton, Pittsylvania, Powhatan, Princess Anne, Prince Edward, Prince George, Prince William, Richmond county, Richmond city, Rockbridge, Rockingham, Shenandoah, Southampton, Spottsylvania, Stafford, Surry, Sussex, Warwick, Westmoreland and York.

NOTE. Although the tracts upon which the taxes and damages due at the time of forfeiture, if less than $20, are exonerated by law, yet as the exoneration does not in every case operate to the benefit of the original owner, it has been deemed expedient to retain all such tracts in the printed lists.

I do hereby certify, that the foregoing is a list of lands offered for sale in the county of Scott, in the year 1815, and which not being sold, became vested in the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, pursuant to the act concerning delinquent lands, which passed the 9th of February, 1814, as appears by the sheriff's report of his proceedings, returned to this office. I further certify, that the foregoing lands are redeemable on or before the 1st day of April, 1834, upon the terms, and under the restrictions prescribed in the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

Given under my hand, at the Auditor's Office of Virginia, this 23d day of June, 1832.

JAMES E. HEATH, Auditor of Public Accounts.

T. W. White, Printer.

A LIST OF LANDS

IN TAZEWELL COUNTY, Va.

VESTED IN THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTORS OF

THE LITERARY FUND.

Auditor's Office of Virginia, March 27, 1832.

The General Assembly, at its late session, having made some material changes in the laws which relate to lands returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, the following abstract is published for the benefit of all persons concerned.

In the counties East of the Alleghany mountains, (see note 1,) all arrearages whatsoever, prior to 1831, inclusive, whether due on lands heretofore forfeited to the Literary Fund; on lands sold in 1816 and redeemed by the state; or on lands annually returned as delinquent since that time, are forever relinquished. The taxes in arrear on town lots are in like manner released.

In respect to the counties West of the Alleghany, (see note 2,) the regulations and enactments are materially different.

1. The lands and lots which were heretofore forfeited to the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, are exonerated from all arrears in cases where the taxes and damages together due at the time of forfeiture, (1815 and 1816,) do not exceed twenty dollars. If the taxes and damages exceed that sum, the lands so vested in the Literary Fund may be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834, by paying the sum due at the period of forfeiture, with six per centum per annum thereon, up to the time of redemption. But these provisions of the law, have this important qualification, to wit: that neither the relinquishment of taxes and damages, when less than twenty dollars, nor the right of redemption, where that sum is exceeded, can operate to deprive any actual, bona fide occupant, claiming under the Commonwealth's grant, and having paid his taxes, of any of the rights and privileges secured to him by the act of 1st April, 1831, and the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

These several acts do in fact transfer to the actual occupant all the claim of the Commonwealth or Literary Fund, previously acquired by forfeiture. It will therefore be expedient for all persons whose lands have been vested in the Literary Fund, to make strict inquiry into all interfering claims, before they exercise the right of redemption.

2. The lands and lots which were sold in 1816, and afterwards redeemed by the state, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes and damages for which they were sold do not together exceed twenty dollars on each tract or lot; and where they exceed that sum, the proprietor may nevertheless redeem at any time before the 1st April, 1834.

3. The lands and lots not embraced in either of the two preceding classes, but which have been annually returned as delinquent, up to the year 1831, inclusive, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes, exclusive of damages, shall not exceed ten dollars on each tract or lot. If the taxes exceed that sum, they may in like manner be paid, and the lands and lots so returned as delinquent, be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834. So, likewise, may the lands and lots lying west of the Alleghany, which may be returned as delinquent for the years 1832 and 1833, be redeemed by payment at the treasury at any time before the said 1st April, 1834.

Besides the relinquishment of all taxes and damages, when amounting to less than the sums above stated, and besides also the privilege of redemption which is given until the 1st April, 1834, there are other remedial provisions in force, by which the proprietors may be relieved on application to the courts of the counties where the lands are situated. 1. Upon proof by the applicant that he is a bona fide purchaser by deed of conveyance recorded before the 1st April, 1831, or under a decree in chancery; or that he derives title from such purchaser; the purchase money having all been paid. 2. That in the years of delinquency there was property sufficient on the premises liable to distress; or 3. That the taxes have either been paid to some person authorized to collect them, or that they were erroneously charged. Proof of payment, or of erroneous charge, may be submitted to the Auditor, without the intervention of the court.

The taxes for 1831, and all other arrearages whatsoever, on lands and lots lying East of the Alleghany, having been released by the Legislature, the collectors are required hereafter to make sale of so much of any delinquent tract or lot, as will be sufficient to discharge the tax of the current year. This information is particularly important to non-residents, and persons whose residence is remote from their lands. For their convenience, the Legislature has authorized them to pay their taxes into the treasury in each year, at any time before the 1st of August; of which payment the Auditor will advise the collectors.

The operation of the system of selling lands for taxes, annually accruing, being suspended in the Trans-Alleghany district, until the 1st April, 1834, the delinquent lists for that district will before that period be returned to this office as heretofore, and the lands and lots so returned may be redeemed. In all cases of redemption, the Legislature has reduced the damages from ten to six per centum per annum.

The attention of all persons interested cannot be too earnestly invited to the several important provisions of which the foregoing is designed as a summary. It is believed that the Legislature has indicated the permanent policy of the state upon this difficult subject, and it must be acknowledged that a liberal anxiety has been manifested to secure the rights of non-residents, as far as consistent with the just and paramount claims of actual and bona fide holders, who have settled their lands under grants from the Commonwealth, and have regularly paid their taxes.

P. S. The lists of lands and lots returned delinquent from 1821 to 1831, inclusive, and not exonerated by law, and the lists of lands and lots which have been forfeited to the Literary Fund, but are now redeemable under the restrictions and limitations herein before stated, will be published and circulated as soon as practicable.

Editors of newspapers, especially in the large northern and eastern cities, would probably oblige many of their patrons, by noticing the foregoing abstract.

NOTE. Although the tracts upon which the taxes and damages due at the time of forfeiture, if less than $20, are exonerated by law, yet as the exoneration does not in every case operate to the benefit of the original owner, it has been deemed expedient to retain all such tracts in the printed lists.

I do hereby certify, that the foregoing is a list of lands offered for sale in the county of Tazewell, in the year 1816, and which not being sold, became vested in the Presiden[illegible] Fund, pursuant to the act concerning delinquent lands, which passed the 9th of February, 1814, as appears by the sheriff's report of his proceedings, returned to this office. I fur[illegible] lands are redeemable on or before the 1st day of April, 1834, upon the terms, and under the restrictions prescribed in the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

Given under my hand, at the Auditor's Office of Virginia, this 26th day of May, 1832.

NOTE. Although the tracts upon which the taxes and damages due at the time of forfeiture, if less than $20, are exonerated by law, yet as the exoneration does not in every case operate to the benefit of the original owner, it has been deemed expedient to retain all such tracts in the printed lists.

I do hereby certify, that the foregoing is a list of lands offered for sale in the county of Wood, in the year 1815, and which not being sold, became vested in the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, pursuant to the act concerning delinquent lands, which passed the 9th of February, 1814, as appears by the sheriff's report of his proceedings, returned to this office. I further certify, that the foregoing lands are redeemable on or before the 1st day of April, 1834, upon the terms, and under the restrictions prescribed in the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

Given under my hand, at the Auditor's Office of Virginia, this 29th May, 1832.

JAMES E. HEATH, Auditor of Public Accounts.

T. W. White, Printer.

A LIST OF LANDS

IN WYTHE COUNTY, Va.

VESTED IN THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTORS OF

THE LITERARY FUND.

Auditor's Office of Virginia, March 27, 1832.

The General Assembly, at its late session, having made some material changes in the laws which relate to lands returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, the following abstract is published for the benefit of all persons concerned.

In the counties East of the Alleghany mountains, (see note 1,) all arrearages whatsoever, prior to 1831, inclusive, whether due on lands heretofore forfeited to the Literary Fund; on lands sold in 1816 and redeemed by the state; or on lands annually returned as delinquent since that time, are forever relinquished. The taxes in arrear on town lots are in like manner released.

In respect to the counties West of the Alleghany, (see note 2,) the regulations and enactments are materially different.

1. The lands and lots which were heretofore forfeited to the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, are exonerated from all arrears in cases where the taxes and damages together due at the time of forfeiture, (1815 and 1816,) do not exceed twenty dollars. If the taxes and damages exceed that sum, the lands so vested in the Literary Fund may be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834, by paying the sum due at the period of forfeiture, with six per centum per annum thereon, up to the time of redemption. But these provisions of the law, have this important qualification, to wit: that neither the relinquishment of taxes and damages, when less than twenty dollars, nor the right of redemption, where that sum is exceeded, can operate to deprive any actual, bona fide occupant, claiming under the Commonwealth's grant, and having paid his taxes, of any of the rights and privileges secured to him by the act of 1st April, 1831, and the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

These several acts do in fact transfer to the actual occupant all the claim of the Commonwealth or Literary Fund, previously acquired by forfeiture. It will therefore be expedient for all persons whose lands have been vested in the Literary Fund, to make strict inquiry into all interfering claims, before they exercise the right of redemption.

2. The lands and lots which were sold in 1816, and afterwards redeemed by the state, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes and damages for which they were sold do not together exceed twenty dollars on each tract or lot; and where they exceed that sum, the proprietor may nevertheless redeem at any time before the 1st April, 1834.

3. The lands and lots not embraced in either of the two preceding classes, but which have been annually returned as delinquent, up to the year 1831, inclusive, are exonerated from all arrears, in cases where the taxes, exclusive of damages, shall not exceed ten dollars on each tract or lot. If the taxes exceed that sum, they may in like manner be paid, and the lands and lots so returned as delinquent, be redeemed at any time before the 1st April, 1834. So, likewise, may the lands and lots lying west of the Alleghany, which may be returned as delinquent for the years 1832 and 1833, be redeemed by payment at the treasury at any time before the said 1st April, 1834.

Besides the relinquishment of all taxes and damages, when amounting to less than the sums above stated, and besides also the privilege of redemption which is given until the 1st April, 1834, there are other remedial provisions in force, by which the proprietors may be relieved on application to the courts of the counties where the lands are situated. 1. Upon proof by the applicant that he is a bona fide purchaser by deed of conveyance recorded before the 1st April, 1831, or under a decree in chancery; or that he derives title from such purchaser, the purchase money having all been paid. 2. That in the years of delinquency there was property sufficient on the premises liable to distress; or 3. That the taxes have either been paid to some person authorized to collect them, or that they were erroneously charged. Proof of payment, or of erroneous charge, may be submitted to the Auditor, without the intervention of the court.

The taxes for 1831, and all other arrearages whatsoever, on lands and lots lying East of the Alleghany, having been released by the Legislature, the collectors are required hereafter to make sale of so much of any delinquent tract or lot, as will be sufficient to discharge the tax of the current year. This information is particularly important to non-residents, and persons whose residence is remote from their lands. For their convenience, the Legislature has authorized them to pay their taxes into the treasury in each year, at any time before the 1st of August; of which payment the Auditor will advise the collectors.

The operation of the system of selling lands for taxes, annually accruing, being suspended in the Trans-Alleghany district, until the 1st April, 1834, the delinquent lists for that district will before that period be returned to this office as heretofore, and the lands and lots so returned may be redeemed. In all cases of redemption, the Legislature has reduced the damages from ten to six per centum per annum.

The attention of all persons interested cannot be too earnestly invited to the several important provisions of which the foregoing is designed as a summary. It is believed that the Legislature has indicated the permanent policy of the state upon this difficult subject, and it must be acknowledged that a liberal anxiety has been manifested to secure the rights of non-residents, as far as consistent with the just and paramount claims of actual and bona fide holders, who have settled their lands under grants from the Commonwealth, and have regularly paid their taxes.

P. S. The lists of lands and lots returned delinquent from 1821 to 1831, inclusive, and not exonerated by law, and the lists of lands and lots which have been forfeited to the Literary Fund, but are now redeemable under the restrictions and limitations herein before stated, will be published and circulated as soon as practicable.

Editors of newspapers, especially in the large northern and eastern cities, would probably oblige many of their patrons, by noticing the foregoing abstract.

" "	146	1809 1810		20	This and the foregoing tracts, in the name of Alexander Wolcott, are vested in the Literary Fund, with the exception of 225 acres.

NOTE. Although the tracts upon which the taxes and damages due at the time of forfeiture, if less than $20, are exonerated by law, yet as the exoneration does not in every case operate to the benefit of the original owner, it has been deemed expedient to retain all such tracts in the printed lists.

I do hereby certify, that the foregoing is a list of lands offered for sale in the county of Wythe, in the years 1815 and 1816, and which not being sold, became vested in the President and Directors of the Literary Fund, pursuant to the act concerning delinquent lands, which passed the 9th of February, 1814, as appears by the sheriff's report of his proceedings, returned to this office. I further certify, that the foregoing lands are redeemable on or before the 1st day of April, 1831, upon the terms, and under the restrictions prescribed in the acts of 10th and 19th March, 1832.

Given under my hand, at the Auditor's Office of Virginia, this 23d day of June, 1832.
